

What other services do you recommend?

We recommend that your horse be de-wormed and if necessary vaccinated (West Nile) and/or treated for any condition while in quarantine. Daily exercise your horse on a horse walker or in a 60' round pen for running. Horses should be conditioned during quarantine. A farrier can be made available, if necessary. These services are separate from the CEM testing. Charges for any of these services must be paid in full before departure.

Can Frederiksborg Horse Farm export my horse?

Yes, Our US central location makes shipping horses out of and into the USA convenient for our customers.

Are there requirements for exporting a horse?

Yes, exporting horses from the USA to another country requires an isolation/quarantine period. Your horse will undergo certain tests to meet all export requirements; these required tests vary from country to country. Once we receive negative results on tests taken, a health certificate will be completed by an accredited attending veterinarian. This health certificate must be approved by the USDA prior to your horse's departure.

How do I receive a quote for export?

Frederiksborg Horse Farm needs to know the destination country; we will then ascertain what requirements and tests, if any, the country requires. At this point, Frederiksborg Horse Farm will send you an export contract spelling out the cost and requirements for your export.

Contracts and funds for exporting your horse must be paid at time of horse(s) arrival to Frederiksborg Horse Farm.

The export funds will include payment for:
