

CANE CORSO

The Cane Corso is an ancient Italian molosser, directly descending from the Roman “canis pugnax.” It is a great guard dog, extremely loyal to its family and quite aloof with strangers. He has a very protective nature and yet is able to discern friend from foe. He instinctively knows the house and the whole family.

The Corso loves attention from his family, he is gentle with the children seemingly aware of their vulnerability and enjoys being included in the family activities. His look is bold and noble.

Corsos are now available at Frederiksborg Horse Farm
